League of St.George

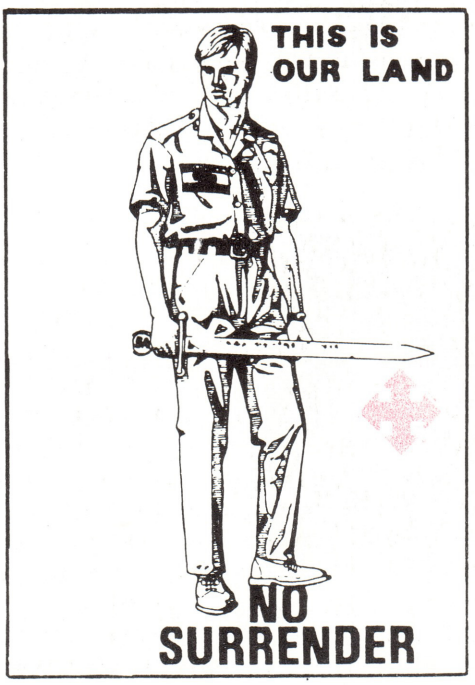
The Board of Deputies, that pompous, self - righteous group, that claims to represent Britain's Jewish Community, seem to be suffering from a severe bout of "delusion of grandeur".
One would expect that any group representing less than one percent of Britain's total population would adopt a pretty low profile, but it would seem that the board firmly believe that they are the tail that will wag the dog.
Month after month,this small group, who are only appointed to safeguard the welfare of their tiny community, raise their demands higher and higher. They DEMAND the right to decide who is allowed to visit Britain, banning those, who like Fred Leuchter, question THEIR views on history. They DEMAND changes in our laws, that would stifle the right of free speech that was won for us, often in bloody battle, by our forefathers. They even DEMAND the right to veto the Social lives of Crown Ministers, prohibiting them to socialise with those that the Board consider "unclean". Any criticism of their policies, their religious practices, or the behaviour of their community, is met with allegations of "anti-semitism". Any criticism, real or imaginary, of that foreign country in Northern Africa, called Israel is condemned as heresy,thus creating speculation that if ever Britain went to war against it, then just which side would the majority of deputies decide to fight on ?.

Any moves by the "ethnic majority" to educate OUR people into Nationalistic pride, are met with cries of "Fascism",by the Board and their cohorts. Similarly, when we attempt to discourage race- mixing, they call us "Racist". Yet should any member of their community decide to "marry out",condemnation swiftly follows.

We would have no quarrel with the Board, if they stuck to their task of merely representing one, of many minorities in this country, but as long as they regard themselves as a "Shadow Government" and seek to impose their will on the majority, we will oppose them vigorously.

The Socialist Workers Party decision to relaunch the "Anti-Nazi League"has caused consternation in the ranks of the "anti-Fascist" movement. With the "Anti-Fascist Action" group almost moribund, having been deserted by many of it's supporters, either fearful at it's reputation for violence, or horrified by its overt support for the IRA, many "anti's" are looking for a new home. Even, we are told, certain founder members of AFA are now seeking to build bridges with the stronger "Anti-Racist Alliance", like rats deserting a sinking ship.
All this of course, is of no matter to our Nationalist Movement. We were active before the coming of ANAL,AFA and the ARA, and will continue our Holy Struggle long after they have vanished into obscurity.

With the General Election now widely believed to be scheduled for April 9th, we would like to take this opportunity to remind all "Comrades" that victory will only be achieved by hard work, and lots of it!. League Officers, and "Sentinel" staff, will all be out on the streets doing their bit. Please do the same !!



FORWARD INTO EUROPE

British Nationalists may get their best ever chance to gain parliamentary seats, thanks to a proposal due be be debated in the EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT, later this year.

The proposal, is to create a common electoral system throughout the European community, based on PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.
Various forms of this system are already widely used throughout Europe, and is one of the main reasons that Nationalist parties have began at last to get impressive results.
For example, although the AUSTRIAN FREEDOM PARTY, led by Jorg Haider, won only 18% of the total votes in recent regional elections, it was enough under the proportional representative system, to give them 18% of the seats (eleven),in the regional parliament in Linz.
In BELGIUM, the Flemish Nationalist Party, VLAAMS BLOK, polled just over 10% of the total vote in recent General Elections, but thanks to proportional representation, this gave them 12 seats in the National Parliament, and a powerful voice in the coalition government.

Compare these results, against the recent campaign in the U.S.A. by our old comrade DAVID DUKE, for the Governorship of the State of Louisiana.
In a "first past the post" election, Duke lost, despite polling over 700,00 votes !.
In Britain, in every election since the war, we have seen a government of either tweedle-dee, or tweedle-dum, this despite the fact, that on several occasions, the party gaining power actually had more people voting against them than in favour of them !

The proposal to introduce the P.R. system throughout Europe, will at first only apply to the election of M.E.P's, but if accepted, will be phased in to include all National and Regional elections.

Predictably, British parliamentarians are already uniting to oppose the proposal, but Nationalists colleagues in Europe feel that given the strength of support for the idea, we could see it introduced within the next three years.

Faced with this exciting prospect, it becomes even more important that British Nationalists, make stringent efforts to meet with European colleagues, to establish a broad based, European Nationalist Alliance.
Equally important however, is the need for an electoral pact between British Nationalists, to present a united face to the British electorate, and gain the victory that we so desperately need !.

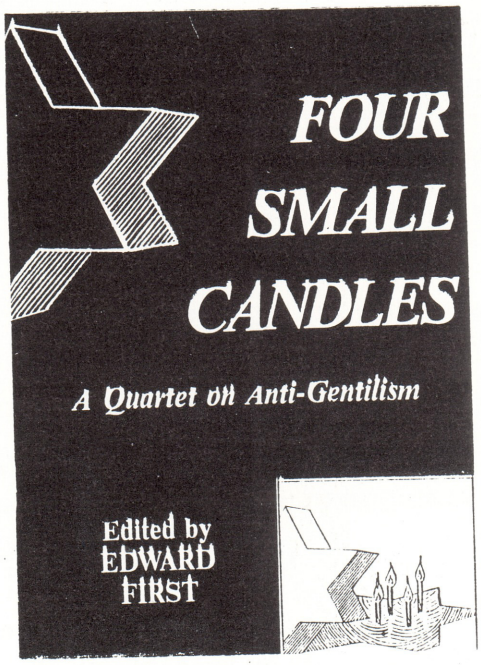
LABOUR COUNCIL BAN "NATIONAL ANTHEM"

Councillor Alan Davies, the left-wing Mayor of Walsall, West Midlands, has shocked fellow councillors and local residents by BANNING THE NATIONAL ANTHEM from being played at this years Annual Civic banquet. The banquet is held to honour those who have served the borough and it's people, and is normally attended by council officers,and representatives of both voluntary groups and ex-servicemens associations. The Mayor said that he took the step, hoping to avoid a repeat of lasts years banquet, when Labour councillors REFUSED TO STAND FOR THE PLAYING OF THE ANTHEM.
The Council, which is of course LABOUR CONTROLLED, is no stranger to controversy. Just a few months ago, they were criticised by the Association of Librarians for imposing "political censorship", in banning copies of the National Front paper "The Flag" from Walsall's public libraries, and then during the Gulf War, they decided to stop flying the UNION JACK from the Town Hall, because it might "UPSET THE LOCAL MOSLEMS".

STUDENTS PROTEST OVER FREE BOOKLET

Student Unions have complained to the Director of Public Prosecutions, about a free booklet which they say has been widely distributed at universities throughout the country recently, entitled "The Four Candles".
The 36 page booklet, published in the U.S.A. by a group calling itself "The British League Against Anti-Gentlism", gives the historical background to crimes of "Ritual Murder"allegedly committed by Jewish fanatics, against Gentile children in medieval times.
A spokesman for the Union of Jewish Students said " we feel that this booklet is anti-semitic, and have referred it to the D.P.P. for action against the distributors". An unamed source in the D.P.P.'s office told League Sentinel, "that our powers to prosecute do not unfortunately extend to the United States".



Despite complaints about student poverty, some Student Unions are complaining about this FREE BOOKLET.

BNP WIN "STICKERS" CASE.

The British National Party secured a historic victory recently when they successfully appealed against a conviction for "Unauthorised advertising".
The case revolved around a political decision taken by the Labour dominated Rochdale council, to prosecute the BNP's bookshop manager, Mr Richard Edmonds, for allegedly displaying "Unauthorised advertisements" on council property.
The offending "advertisement" was in fact, a BNP sticker, which someone had stuck on a council notice-board. A local magistrate ruled that as the BNP were assumed to have benefited from the "advertisement", then they as distributors were legally responsible. A fine of £375, plus costs were imposed.
Following legal advise, Mr Edmonds appealed against the conviction, and at the appeal hearing, Rochdale Council's legal representative offered no evidence, thus leaving the Judge no option other than to dismiss the case. Costs were awarded against the council.
The BNP, and Mr Edmonds, must be congratulated for their determination not to succumb to petty intimidation by political opponents.

NF MEMBER SUES MEDIA.

In 1988, Kent farmer, and NF stalwart, George Nye, became yet another victim of media distortion and inaccurate researching, when a Channel 4 television documentary, "Dispatches" falsely accused him of being involved in providing "para-military" and weapons training to NF members, on his farm in Kent. These allegations, which both Mr Nye and the NF strenuously denied, were then repeated in a Kent newspaper, thus causing Mr Nye both a great deal of distress, and severe loss of income.
But whilst lesser men may have bowed under such pressure, Mr Nye chose to fight back.
For over three years, George Nye campaigned to clear his name. After writing to, and getting no satisfaction from the various media "watchdog" organisations, he was finally forced to take legal action.
Just before Yuletide, the case finally arrived at the Royal Courts of Justice in London, and to Mr Nye's delight he found that the media moguls, somewhat shocked by the determined fight put up by George, had capitulated, and had instructed their legal representatives, to formally read out in court, first a complete retraction of their lies, and then a grovelling apology to Mr Nye.
An out of court offer for damages, of thirty thousand pounds was also made and accepted. Meanwhile, the Kent newspaper which had repeated Channel 4's scurrilous allegations, also printed a full retraction, and agreed to pay ten thousand pounds as damages.

Postscript:

To avoid further financial losses through litigation, perhaps the media moguls should in future, look long and hard at the motives and political allegiances of some of their informants, before paying for "information" supplied. In the case of the Channel 4 "Dispatches" programme,this was produced by a company called, "The Interesting Film Company Limited", of West Yorkshire, and the producers were..Tim Tate, and "Searchliar" editor, GERRY GABLE.

"ANAL" RELAUNCHED

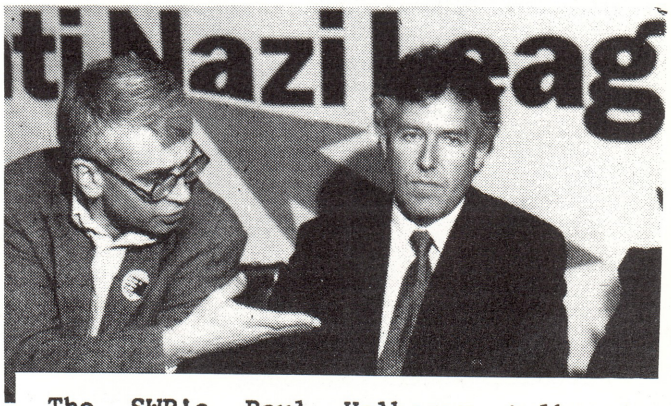
The recent decision to relaunch the "ANTI-NAZI LEAGUE", has been greeted with both condemnation and violence from other "anti-Fascist" groups, who obviously resent any further competition for funds, in the lucrative "Race Relations" business.

The relaunch was announced by Labour MP's, Peter Hain and Bernie Grant, at a special press conference at the House of Commons recently.
Once again, the Socialist Workers Party will be controlling ANAL, with long time official Paul Holborow, being named as "Organiser". This decision has already angered the Jewish Board of Deputies, who have frequently denounced the SWP as being "anti-zionist".
Also condemning the decision to relaunch, was the black-led, "ANTI-RACIAL ALLIANCE", which claims to have the support of several Labour MP's, as well as that of the extreme-left, Jewish Socialist Group. The A.R.A secretary, Marc Wadsworth, better known for his role as a presenter on I.T.V's "London Programme", also attended the relaunch, but was shouted down by ANAL/SWP stewards, when he tried to criticise the platform speakers, for allegedly "going behind the backs of black groups "who were seemingly not consulted about the relaunch.
A spokesman for the most violent of the organisations attending the launch, the "ANTI-FASCIST ACTION", said somewhat ominously, that they were "frustrated" at the return of ANAL.

The extend of this "frustration" was clearly demonstrated, when just a few days after the official relaunch, ANAL held their first "activity". This was supposed to be a "mass leafletting" of the East London area, in which the BNP's, John Tyndall, and Richard Edmonds, will be contesting in the forthcoming General Election.

The ANAL leafleters had managed to distribute an average of 120 leaflets each, when the event ended in violence. Several small, but well organised gangs of thugs from the rival "Anti-Fascist Action", hunted down, and viciously attacked many of the leafleters,four of whom required hospital treatment, including one, who had been stabbed with a broken bottle. An eye-witness described the scene in nearby, Altab Ali park, as resembling "a wartime casualty dressing post".

There will no doubt be more violence on our streets over the next few months, as the various "anti-Fascist" factions battle for the supremacy which leads to a "bigger share of the loot", but an informed source inside the "anti-Fascist movement" told "League Sentinel" that he believed that ANAL could not regain the position that it held in the 70's, without the financial backing of the Jewish Board of Deputies, and that wouldn't be forthcoming, until the SWP changed it's "anti-zionist,pro-Palestinian" stance.
He also felt that as the Board were becoming increasingly embarrassed, by both the violent conduct, and the "pro-IRA" policies of "ANTI-FASCIST ACTION", they would most likely switch their support to the "ANTI-RACIAL ALLIANCE".



The SWP's Paul Holborow talks to Labour M.P. Peter Hain.

CALM APPRAISAL OF AN OLD PROBLEM

by Oswald Mosley

Fascism and anti-semitism are constantly linked together, by both members of the Jewish community, and left-wing political opponents. But were Fascists anti-semites ? read this enlightening article penned by Sir Oswald Mosley in the mid-1960's, and draw your own conclusions.

More drivel is talked about the Jews than most subjects; both ways. The views that all Jews are born wicked, or that all Jews should be the sacred ojects of the system, seems to me equal nonsense. I am neither an anti-semite, nor a sycophant of semites. The attitude of our movement has been both consistent and intelligible throughout. We have never attacked any man on account of race or religion, and we never shall. But we attack any man, whatever his race or religion, who acts against the interests of Britain or Europe; particularly Britons who ought to know b tter than to serve alien interests. It is a straightforward attitude, which has been formed by clear principles.

Why then have we been involved in clashes with Jewish interests, and why are so many Jews violently against us? The answers again are clear. Before the war I believed that certain great Jewish interests were trying to involve us in war, not in a British, but in a Jewish quarrel: I still believe it. The reasons for our belief and for the Jewish action are equally intelligible. It is true that a considerable number of Jews were having a bad time in Germany, and it can also be argued that if a similar number of Englishmen had been having an equally bad time in Germany, there would have been a demand among many Englishmen for war against Germany. But it is beyond question from the evidence of the period, that powerful Jewish interests were trying to produce war between Britain and Germany. They made it their business to start a war in the Jewish interest. I, and my friends, made it our business to stop that war, in British interest. That led to a head-on clash, and I still think that we were right in doing our utmost to prevent that war.

The issues between us, and those Jews before the war, were therefore quite simple and clear. They wanted to make a war, and we wanted to stop it. That is the long and the short of the whole matter. There was no question of racial persecution on our part. That was entirely contrary to our principles, which I put on public record at the time. We British were running a great Empire composed of many different races, and any suggestion of racial persecution would have broken it up. For practical,as well as moral reasons, it would have been the gravest error for us to pursue a policy of any kind of racial persecution. The Germans had entirely different national problems, as well as in some respects, a different national character, which was derived from a diversity of historic experience.

Our duty then, was to hold together and develop a multi-racial Empire. Their task, was to bring together and unite, the German peoples of one race. Because we wanted entirely different things, there was no need whatever, for a clash between us. The man you were apt to quarrel with, is the man who wants the same thing you do. The closely related peoples of Britain and Germany were by every design of nature complementary powers; a sea power concerned with a great Empire, and a land power concerned with its own people in a continental land mass.

The crime of those who then ruled Europe on both sides was to permit the division of Europe, which resulted in fratricidal war. The division of Europe was the supreme crime. It is true that the British Government actually declared war in a quarrel which was none of our business. But the errors of the German Government certainly assisted that act, and the consequent catastrophe. The world combination of their enemies against them was facilitated by the precipitate arrogance of the "patience exhausted" line, which provides a striking and instructive contrast to the more adroit and successful policies of characters so different as, Bismarck and Khrushchev. But the fatal line-up against Germany was above all aided by their anti-semitic policy, which enabled their main enemies, in the international finance world, to build up a front against them. These errors brought to nought, all of the great social achievements of the National Socialist movement.

We, always rejected the nonsensical doctrine that a whole people were born wicked, and doomed to sin and damnation from birth. This is the deep moral and intellectual error of anti-semitism, which has for a long period impeded the whole movement of European renaissance; despite all its wide diversity of form, in different countries.

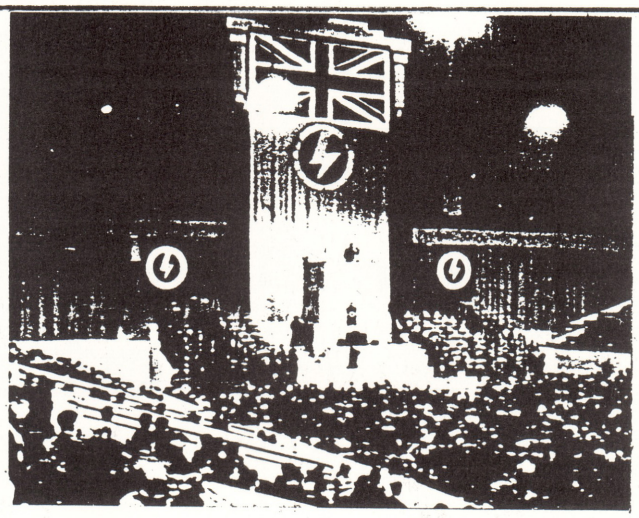
Neither before,during,nor after the war, did we have anything to do with the doctrine of anti-semitism. Our policy now remains the same. When after the war, at the time of Suez, some Jewish interests were trying to drag us to war, not in a British, but Jewish quarrel, we again attacked them. We have neither fear nor favour; we attack men not for what they are, but for what they do. When you see in some periods little or nothing about Jews, in our speeches or publications, it does not mean that we have changed our principles, but that at this time we see nothing to quarrel about. We only attack a Jew,a Gentile, an Englishman or an Eskimo, when he is doing something against the interests of Britain.

But, reply those possessed by a fuddled anti-semitism, many Jews are doing something wrong all of the time. Quite right, we reply, and so are a number of Englishmen and members of other peoples of this island. The point is, that we are going to bring all of these damned rackets to an end, whoever does them. Those who run the rackets will find themselves either in jail, or out of the country, whoever they are. We shall do this by the fearless application of existing law, which could stop this corruption, if the government itself were not corrupt. If this is not enough, we shall ask the people to give us the power to make new laws. We are going to smash this corruption. That will solve the problem.

....."we only atttack a Jew, a Gentile, an Englishman or an Eskimo, when he is doing something against the interests of Britain"...

If the views of the anti-semites were correct, then all Jews would be caught by these laws; so they have nothing to bellyache about. But, of course, their view is not true, because no people have what the Victorians called "a double dose of original sin". The only effect of this foolish opinion is to let the big rogues go scot-free. While anti-semites are busy pursuing the little Jews, the big villains of all races who run international finance are sitting back and laughing at them in the City,or Wall Street, or in kindred haunts of the usury species. How many of them were ever caught by the Nazis ? On the contrary, the error of some Nazis played right into their hands, and gave them the weapons to defeat the European renaissance in every country.



...."the crime of those who then ruled Europe, was to permit the division of Europe"...

Now comes again,in a newer and higher form, the renaissance of the European man; this time not to lose, but to win..

A YEAR OF Remembrance and Commemoration. The 50th Anniversary of the heroic defence of Calais by the 30th Brigade, of the 'miracle' of Dunkirk, of the Battle of Britain - and the birth of the British Political Prisoner, aired by Government suppression of age old liberties born out of Magna Carta, and the freedom for which it was said we had gone to war, in Britain died.

"Fight and die" was Churchill's message to the men of Calais,and the four doomed battalions dutifully fulfilled the order from that great architect of disaster and master of English prose.

Described by him later as "one of the finest rearguard actions of the war", their sacrifice helped to make possible the rescue of over 300,000 of Britian's army, an epic successfully concluded by the traditional skills and determination of the Royal Navy, the thoughts of Corporal Gordon Bowler of the doomed territorial 1st Battalion Queens Victoria Rifles as he trudged to a German POW camp. Did he dwell on his earlier fight to prevent the war with his Blackshirt comrades, many of whom, recruited in East London, now lay dead in blood-spattered Calais, instead in Churchills 'finest rearguard action of the war'.

Their sacrifice no doubt saved the lives of many British lads. But not of

COLIN JORDAN TO BE PROSECUTED

Veteran Nationalist, Colin Jordan, whose home was raided by police, following a complaint by Labour M.P. Gerald Kaufman, has been summonsed to appear in court to answer charges of possession of 4 items of literature, illegal under the 1986 Public Order Act.

Kaufman had originally complained to the police that he had been sent a sticker "urging Americans to fight for Israel" which he believed had been distributed by Mr Jordan.
SIgnificantly, none of the items for which Mr Jordan has now been charged with, are stickers, thus re-inforcing Mr Jordan's belief that Kaufman's original complaint merely served as an excuse to mount such a raid.
Colin Jordan has already begun to fight back, and has announced his intention of issuing a witness summons on Kaufman, he also intends to call as an "expert witness" Mr Fred Leuchter. This move will cause a great deal of embarrassment for Home Secretary Kenneth Baker, who has issued an exclusion order banning Mr Leuchter from Britain.
Since the raid, Mr Jordan feels that Gerald Kaufman, having started things, now wishes to withdraw into the background, but to help remind people just who instituted this "witchhunt", Mr Jordan has produced stickers to advertise his case.These are available from "Gothic Ripples" at £2.50 per 100

Legal expenses for the coming case are expected to be heavy, therefore we appeal to all Nationalists to show their support and send donations to Mr Jordan, at Gothic Ripples, "Thorgarth", Greenhow Hill, Harrogate. N.Yorks.

ARSON THREAT TO "SEARCHLIAR" PRINTERS.

The "Ku Klux Klan", are being blamed for alleged threats to launch an arson attack on the printers of "Searchliar" and "CARF" magazines.
The allegations have been made by a spokesman for the printers, Russell Press Ltd, of Radford Mill, Norton Street, Nottingham, who claim that the threat was left on their answerphone, by a caller who identified himself as a member of the KKK, and threatened to burn down the factory, unless they stopped printing "anti-Fascist" publications.
Nottingham Police have promised to increase patrols near the premises.
"Anti-Fascist" sources have claimed that the threats were specifically timed to co-incide with the court appearance of the "Searchliar" editor, Gerry Gable, some 128 miles away, at Horseferry Road Magistrates Court, where he faced various charges relating to attacks on members of the public attending a book symposium at London's Kensington Library last May.

VIEWPOINT

"ANTI-FASCIST GETS PROMOTION.

A co-defendant in the forthcoming trial of "Searchliar" editor, Gerry Gable, seems to have discovered the secret of gaining rapid promotion in the "anti-Fascist" movement.

We refer of course to a Mr O'Shea, who along with Gerry, faces charges relating to attacks on innocent members of the public, attending a book club function at Kensington library last May.
In October, shortly after being charged, Mr O'Shea, who hails from North West London, was described in "Searchliar" as being just " a MEMBER of AFA." But a mere nine weeks later, and having been committed by Horseferry Road Magistrates, to a Crown Court trial, the December issue of.. "Searchliar" announces O'Shea's promotion to ...."a LEADING MEMBER of AFA"

Prompting us to wonder, just what criteria does the "anti-Fascist movement" use when considering promotions ??

Searchlight's editor and a member of AFA are still facing a number of charges for alleged offences at a neo-nazi rally organised by the League of St George at Kensington Library last May. They are steadfast in their determination to fight these serious charges. Gerry Gable would like any witnesses who wish to contact us to do so via our solicitors, Bindman and Partners, on 071 278 8131. We offer thanks to those witnesses who have already come forward.

JUST ARRIVED !

BLACKSHIRTS and ROSES. . . By John Charnley.

John Charnley was the Blackshirt District Leader for Hull, during the turbulent decade that led up to the Second World War. Charnley tells of the Battles of Cable Street, and Corporation fields. The Earls Court Rally, and his years of imprisonment in the infamous Isle of Man "concentration camp", where he was held under defence regulation 18b. The book gives a unique insight into the life of a man, whose experiences streched from being thrown bodily through a plate glass window, to tea at a Buckingham Palace garden party.
